Baton Rouge — The Louisiana State Licensing Board for Contractors (LSLBC) has information available to contractors and the public 24 hours a day, 7 days a week on its website, www.lslbc.louisiana.gov.

Contractors who want to find out information on how to apply for a license or details on the types of licenses the LSLBC regulates can do so by clicking one of the four contractor links on the homepage: commercial, residential, home improvement or mold remediation. The website includes downloadable forms and an option to renew online.

The LSLBC website also features a Frequently Asked Questions page with answers to questions about ownership changes, address changes, examinations and project classifications. Click the News/Violations link to view past news bulletins, news articles and monthly violation lists.

Consumers who are hiring a contractor can easily check whether that contractor is licensed by clicking the homepage link titled "Is a contractor licensed or registered?" Search options include searching by name, license number, city, parish or type. It is sometimes helpful to omit parts of the name, such as LLC or Inc., in order to get a list of results.

In addition to these online services, the LSLBC has recently joined Facebook. Like us to receive LSLBC updates, links to news articles and information about appearances at trade show events. Find the link to our Facebook page at the lower right corner of the homepage on our website.
